PATENT EXAMINERS BOWLING RECORD SCORES AT ARCADE

Averages Compare Well With Others in District of Columbia.

ENGINEERS HAVE HIGH PERCENTAGE

Lowers Has Greatest Individual Set and Makes Many Strikes.

Judging from the team and individual averages which have been compiled for the Patent Examiners' Bowling League by Secretary J. W. Kelly, the specification searchers have been splitting the pins at a rapid clip up at the Arcade alleys. Team averages in the league compare favorably with those of any teams in the District and the individual records are above the ordinary.

Engineers have won thirty-three out of fifty-one games, which gives them a percentage of .647. Interference and farmers are second and third, respectively, those teams having percentages of .635 and .470.

High team set 2,572 to date, has been established by the Farmers as high team game, 825. Lowers holds high individual set, 620, and high individual game, 256.

Garrett, Grindle and Lowers have the best individual records, their respective averages being 182.1, 175.2, and 171.38. The most number of spares, 225, have been made by Roepke, and the highest number of strikes is tied for between Lowers and Hardy. Each has made 157 strikes.

Saengerbund Notes

Lepper's Outlaw League is working only one set this week and that was a high one.

Next Monday ball doings: watch the presidents; also a bunch of Ex's.

George Schaffer claims the first game Wednesday was the beginning of the fools' season.

Eckstein removed the seeds, also used his personal influence with Kennedy to come out of his hole—and he came.

Carl Xander is furnishing lubricator for the outlaw league Monday next. (Not in the trust!)

Postponed games can be rolled on Tuesdays hereafter. Arrangements can be made by the captains.

That's all this time, but after that Will and Hamper storm Monday look out next week.

Bob a Magnate.

Bob Fitzsimmons, former heavyweight champion of the world, was rolled into base ball. Bob used to have some money, but if he takes that chance in the outlaw circuit, he's liable to wake up some fine morning and discover the pressing necessity of getting a regular job for his "ham and."

Harvard Rooters Will See Michigan's Style Of Playing Football

Michigan football will be seen in Harvard stadium next November when Dan McGugin's Vanderbilt eleven lines up against the Crimson for their first contest. McGugin is an old Michigan star and a brother-in-law of F. H. Yost, the Wolverine's successful tutor. McGugin knows Yost football through and through, and has had considerable success with his endeavors to teach the Nashville eleven that style of play. Last year Vanderbilt lost to Michigan by a single point, thus showing its caliber.

YOUNG TURNER TO MEET MITCHELL AT VCEUM TONIGHT

Takes On Baltimore Middle-weight for Side Bet and Purse.

"Bumps" Turner, who stayed with America's light-heavyweight champion of the world, for eleven minutes at the Lyceum Theater Thursday night, will meet Billy Mitchell, the Baltimore middleweight, at that theater tonight. The two local athletes that met America on Thursday, young Turner stayed on the mat the longest, and he demonstrated more cleverness than either O'Neill, Scroggins, or Volters. This boy shows much of the same class of wrestling as his older brother, Joe, and he is a real contender for the title. Tonight's match will include three finish bouts for a side bet and purse of $200, winner to take all.

Turner Wins Again From Tom Duchesne

Putting up one of the most aggressive matches in which he has yet figured in this city, Joe Turner, the recognized middleweight champion, won his second match from Tom Duchesne, the Fall River wrestler, who has won much popularity throughout New England by defeating all comers. Duchesne gained the first fall from the local athlete in fifteen minutes, but the latter came back in the second round and pinned Duchesne's shoulders to the mat in eighteen minutes. Turner gained this fall by means of the hammerlock, having held Duchesne to the floor for several seconds. The third fall went to Turner in eleven minutes, a repetition of the hammerlock being responsible. It will be remembered that Turner disposed of Duchesne easily in their match last week, but the latter wished a return engagement with the toe held barred. This being one of Turner's best assets, he accepted the return match with reluctance, and the fact that he won last night's bout from so clever a performer as Duchesne is a distinct victory for the local athlete. Duchesne now admits that Turner is the better man.

All Ready for Big Bowling Tourney

HOLD MEETING TO DISCUSS FORMING ATHLETIC ASS'N.

Southern Colleges Have Representatives At Georgetown Today.

Representatives of many colleges in the South are today conferring at Georgetown University over the advisability of forming a Southern intercollegiate athletic association to have general charge of athletics of schools and colleges in the South.

Today's meeting is entirely tentative. It is found that the institutions represented favor such an organization, immediate steps will be made to adopt by-laws and constitution, and schools and colleges throughout this section will be invited to join the movement.

Georgetown is represented by Thomas F. Smith, president of the Georgetown Athletic Association. Joseph T. Engle, and Landis, of the A. A. U., and director of athletics at Johns Hopkins University, is here in the interests of the Virginia Athletic Association. Mr. Neff here for the meeting, and branch Boeck is representing North Carolina. The latter also holds a voice for Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

Interesting Race In Saengerbund League

An interesting race is on among teams in the Saengerbund League, the contest for second place being particularly so at this time. Mozart, Schuberts, and Brahms are all within a few points of each other and the first few matches next week will undoubtedly develop many changes in team standings.

Burdine, of the Haydens, has a high set, 674, and Eckstein, of the Schuberts, has high game, 278. Schuberts have rolled high team set with 2,652 pins. Complete team and individual standings are:

Rutt and Stol Winners In Big Six-Day Race

Rutt and Stol, the veteran German six-day bicycle team, won the big six-day race in Berlin, Jimmy Moran and Joe Fogler, the American team, finishing a close second. Eddie Root and Fred Hill, another American team, were third in the final dash for honors. Fogler lost the first honors by a length. The winners covered 2,405 miles.

BOB THAYER'S Sporting Gossip

"Every Knock Is a Boost."

Convention Hall tonight.

Cy Young's signing a contract for his twenty-second consecutive season is a boost for clean living and outdoor exercise. The aged veteran takes the best of care of himself in season and out and stands as the greatest example of all before the youth of the country. Here's hoping he lasts twenty-two years more!

Wrestling is booming here.

"Red" Doolin, peppery leader of the Phillips, figures that with Alexander, Moore and Chalmers in good condition and Paskert and Cravath banging the ball in accustomed style, the pennant is pretty nearly certain to fly in the Land of Sleep. And with the Athletics—well, it must seem good to have two flags in your town at once!

"Go to your marks!"

George Washington students and alumni have an excellent chance this evening to prove just where they stand on the matter of athletics at the university. The holding of a set of indoor games at Convention Hall is quite a financial undertaking, but if the students get together and give the substantial support there is hope of an athletic revival. Otherwise it can hardly be expected that a few individuals will continue to bear practically all the burden in order that George Washington may continue a factor in the intercollegiate world of sports.

Easy for Georgetown Preps.

That was certainly quite an achievement for Raoul La Mat in setting a new world's record for twenty-four hours on roller skates. La Mat has long been well known in different branches of athletics in the District, but this latest achievement is likely to win him more lasting fame than any of his other performances. The large crowd at the Arcade last night seemed to like the exhibition.

Central High is after cup.

That was a healthy looking bunch of athletes "Pop" Lanigan led into Washington from Charlottesville this morning. The well-known trainer said a couple of his men were suffering from slight injuries, but the whole contingent seemed satisfied that it is to win the point trophy at Convention Hall this evening. The Virginians were particularly anxious to learn something of Georgetown's four, which will be run here on March 2.

No trouble for Turner.

With the passing of "Oz" Veral, Eastern High is losing probably the best basketball player the school has ever had. He was not in the line-up yesterday against the Army and Navy Preps, and his absence was felt by his old team mates.

Raise for Ty Cobb?

By calling off the game scheduled for April 27 with Yale, at New Haven, Georgetown has lost one of the most attractive features of its baseball schedule. However, considering the importance surrounding the celebration in connection with the unveiling of the statue of Founder Carroll, Georgetown could not well afford to have its team away at that time.

Watch Jim Mulligan tonight.

Percy Wendell, Harvard's football captain this year, should establish a marvelous record on the gridiron under the rules lately adopted. As a line breaker he has no equal now in the game. The new rules will make it possible for him to pound his way through the line for many a touchdown and if he doesn't score more points than any other back next fall, many fans will lose their guess.

GEORGETOWN PREPS BATTLE GALLAUDET RESERVES IN GYM

Hilltop Youngsters Face Kendall Greeners for Quint Honors.

Georgetown Preparatory School's basketball team will play its second consecutive game this afternoon when the Hilltop Reserves journey to the Hilltop to line up against the Blue and Gray youngsters in the Ryan gymnasium, and if past performances can be taken as a criterion, the game should be well and hard fought from start to finish. The second team of the Kendall Green institution will start the game with a record of five successive victories and Captain Schaefer's men will strive to make the record stand six straight wins.

Practice Tomorrow Before Meeting Virginia

Final practice before going to Charlottesville to meet the University of Virginia basketball team will be had by Georgetown's quint tomorrow morning. The Hilltop shooters will shoot the creek practiced this morning, and the last touches will be added tomorrow.

Monday's game at Charlottesville is the most important contest remaining on the Hilltoppers' schedule. The latter have already defeated the Virginians twice, and a repetition will be necessary in order to win the Southern championship.

Georgetown is anxious to defeat New York University, as the New York five was the only quint to secure a victory over the local team last season on the home court.

HILLTOP TRACKLETS

Coach Gish seems to be getting more out of the material on the squad than any of those who have preceded him at coaching before him and if the men continue to improve as they have with the last week's Georgetown practice, they will be able to enter all of their men on March 2, in addition to compete successfully with other Southern collegiate runners.

Campbell is working hard to get in trim to demonstrate by his performance in the 40-yard event of the Baltimore meet, that he has the speed necessary for a man in this year's relay team. The former Fordham star should be able to travel the quarter mile in good time on the track at Convention Hall where the turns are banked and can be taken without changing the stride. It was Campbell's weakness on the turns that kept him off the Boston team.

Jack Callahan seems to be in better condition every day and the way he steps his mile promises great things for the future. The local boy is rapidly developing his wind and is able to sprint for quite a distance at the finish. Callahan has a nice stride and feels sure of the ground with little apparent effort, yet with consistently good speed for the full distance.

Dinkler continues to show improvement in his form and it will not be surprising to see him chosen as one of the four for the preps' relay team. Dinkler appears to have plenty of endurance and is able to work up considerable speed, so there is no reason why he would not make an ideal man for a quarter-mile relay.

Gish seems to be able to impart his knowledge of the track game to the boys in the style, and the fact that he is a wonderful performer himself makes his instructions doubly effective. The practice Gish negotiates the short distances in good time and he should plan if not win the 50-yard event in tonight's G. W. games.

Gish and Bob Eller Teaching Hilltoppers Fine Art of Running

From now on the Georgetown track team will be kept busy, having entries in meets at Baltimore, Richmond, and here for a month. The squad is showing decided improvement under the skilled coaching of Bralley Gish, the old Seattle A. C. star, and Bob Eller, the crack hurdler, is also aiding in teaching the less experienced athletes some of the finer points of running. The Blue and Gray expects to have a winning season on the track this year, and interest in the work of the team is at a high pitch on the Hilltop.

HILLTOPPERS WOULD FACE RICHMOND IN BALTIMORE'S MEET

Hilltoppers Request Managers to Schedule Relay Race Next Week.

Georgetown has requested the managers of the John Hopkins indoor meet to book a mile relay between the Hilltoppers' fast quartet and that of Richmond College. The managers will make every effort of hooking up the Richmond runners in this event, which will be given a prominent place on the program.

The Tremont A. C. of this city, will face the Baltimore G. C. C. in a mile relay which is sure to bring out some fast running. The Tremonts have applied for a block of fifty seats and will go to the Monumental City in a body.

Tonight Georgetown's speedy relay quartet meets Holy Cross in the big B. A. A. meet in Boston and the Blue and Gray athletes are confident of winning. Bob Eller will also run in the 40-yard invitation and in the high hurdle meeting some of the best performers in the country.

Team races form a large part of the program at this meet, Harvard freshes facing Yale freshes; New York A. C. vs. B. A. A.; Wesleyan vs. Williams; Harvard varsity vs. Princeton varsity, and Syracuse vs. Columbia, being the way they are hooked up.

Russell Will Star.

It is believed by many fans that "Lefty" Russell will come into his own this season, when Egan, his old-time backstop, dons the mask, with the world's champions.

CHESS AND CHECKER CLUB Will Hold Tournament

This tournament is open to all players of the District of Columbia, Maryland, and Virginia. To players of the District of Columbia a tournament fee of $2 will be charged. No fee will be required from Maryland and Virginia players. Luncheon will be served at noon, and all contestants are invited to be guests of the club for the noon meal. ## MOTORISTS FAVOR ROAD AS MEMORIAL TO WAR PRESIDENT

Congress Soon to Act on Form of Lincoln Commemoration.

By HARRY WARD.

Members of the Automobile Club of Washington have been advised by President R. P. Hooper, of the American Automobile Association, that within thirty days Congress will decide whether the great national memorial to Abraham Lincoln shall be in the form of a highway, to be used by millions of people, or a Greek temple located in Potomac Park.

There will be a hearing before the House Library Committee on March 5 on Congressman Borland's bill, providing that the Lincoln Memorial should be in the form of a highway. "Though the commission in general charge of the memorial plan recently decided in favor of a Greek temple, it is a matter of common knowledge that Speaker Clark is emphatically in favor of the highway, while former Speaker Cannon possesses an idea contrary to the decision of the commission," said President Hooper. "Furthermore, the canvass of the House seems to indicate a large percentage in favor of the road," he continued. "It is a fact which we cannot deny, that motor car owners are now the most persistent users of the road. We are awed in the face of legislation which shall seek to provide up-to-date highways, including a participation by the Federal Government in what can be fairly considered as national or interstate routes."

"In commemorating the memory of such a great man as Lincoln it is fitting that motorists are somewhat prejudiced in favor of the highway, but when one studies Roman history his recollection of Appian Claudius is quickly brought to mind by the famous Appian way. In like manner the Lincoln way would be a constant and daily reminder to thousands of people."

"To get an approximate idea of what a seventy-two-mile highway should cost is not difficult in the case of road making," said George Diehl, chairman of the roads roads board of the American Automobile Association. "The experience of building similar highways throughout the State, at commonwealths and counties, would be about $150 per square yard, including grading, culverts, etc. This would amount to about $2,000 per mile, or $15,000 for the seventy-two-mile stretch."

It is expected a large delegation of motorists will come to Washington to attend the hearing on the Borland bill. Recent additions to the list of Washington motorists who have obtained Maryland automobile licenses include G. R. Putnam, Bureau of Lighthouses, Faron Hemminger, Montgomery, Blue, Lieut. E. R. Pollock, Mrs. L. Z. Leiper, S. W. Stratton, P. B. Chase, Gibbs L. Baker, Alexander Stewart, F. B. Poe, E. H. G. Slater, Mrs. C. B. Wood, W. O. Lindley.

Frank Fickling, who has long been identified with the automobile supply business of this city, has joined with his brother, W. W. Fickling, in the formation of the Fickling & Company. The new firm has opened a store at 1401 I street and will handle Goodyear and Merit tires.</
